

Tony Carvajal

Tony Carvajal has spent more than 25 years managing and consulting with associations and government agencies across the country and has dedicated more than a decade to building and implementing state and regional visioning plans for his home state of Florida.

Tony currently serves as Executive Vice President of the Florida Chamber Foundation, the solutions development arm of the Florida Chamber of Commerce. He has been the lead facilitator guiding the development and implementation of the Florida 2030 plan and the Six Pillars, change management frameworks for securing Florida's future competitiveness, prosperity and resiliency. He is regularly called on to provide guidance and insights into public and private state-level plans and has served on numerous policy steering committees covering topics as varied as education, early learning, workforce development, economic development, transportation, healthcare, volunteerism, civic infrastructure, philanthropy, and smart justice.

Tony is also president of Carvajal Consulting & Management, a Tallahassee-based national consulting firm, where he specializes in strategic planning, Board & staff development, teambuilding, and the design of innovative leadership systems.

Tony is pursuing doctoral studies at Florida State University, earned a Masters in Public Administration from Florida International University, and holds undergraduate degrees in psychology and communications from Florida State University. He has earned the designation of certified association executive (CAE) and is a graduate of the U.S. Chamber's Institute for Organizational Management (IOM) where he not only earned a specialty certification in non-profit management and administration but also served as an instructor in the program for 10 years.
