RE: Complaint No. 25-261, In re Randal Andrews

RECEIVED

As per the letter I received dated December 17th, 2025, providing me with the opportunity to present a written response, I respectfully submit the following information.

I truly had no intention of using my appointed public position to secure a special privilege, benefit or exemption for myself.

Various emails were sent using my County email and signed said emails using my official title and contact information. But once again, I had NO intention of trying to profit from my appointed position.

As per County policies and procedures "employees are permitted limited, personal use of the County email" (ROI 8, Exhibit D1-D4). As per County Attorney Rich Komando, Respondent's use of the email system was incidental and permitted under current County Policy (ROI 17).

I rarely use my work email for anything personal.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Randal W. Andrews", is written over a horizontal line.

Randal W. Andrews, Zoning Director

Bradford County, Florida
